

New York City!
Hilton New York
February 5-8, 2017

NCCEP/GEAR UP CAPACITY-BUILDING WORKSHOP

EXCEL • PROVE • MOBILIZE

SKILL-BUILDING SEMINAR:

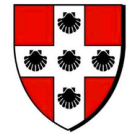

Igniting Student Inquiry Through Project-Based Learning

Facilitators

Learn about a flexible curriculum that empowers students to answer questions about which they feel most passionately

- Lisa Dierker, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology, Wesleyan University
- Barb Nangle, Program Coordinator, Yale-Bridgeport GEAR UP Partnership
- Josh Hewitt, Academic Outreach and Collaborations Manager, SAS

This is a direction no one is interested in going in...

GEAR UP Partnerships at Work

This past summer the Yale-Bridgeport GEAR UP program partnered with Passion Driven Statistics (supported by the National Science Foundation) to introduce under-represented, rising high school seniors to applied statistics and data analysis during a 9-day summer program. The outcome was extraordinary! Below is a link to the video created about the class.

<http://passiondrivenstatistics.com/2016/09/21/gear-up/>

To find out more...

passiondrivenstatistics.com

Idierker@wesleyan.edu

2017 Training: June 24-25 or June 29 to July 1, Middletown, CT

scholarships available

Insert Slide Title

Thank you for attending this skill-building session.

To download materials used during this session,
please visit

<http://www.edpartnerships.org/materials>.